collaborate with other industry professionals. Participants can also play a role in the development of stormwater management educational materials and training programs.

Understand the Regulations

CASQA knows water quality regulations in California are complex. Regulations at both the state and federal level are constantly undergoing revisions, refinements and new interpretations. Your membership in CASQA will allow you to utilize the tools necessary to understand the impacts of proposed changes and to communicate effectively with the regulatory agencies considering these changes, as well as your constituent and stakeholder audiences.

Plan for the Future & Understand Community Impacts

Programs to improve water quality in California through NPDES permits and related water quality standard attainment strategies require a societal balancing of quality with costs. CASQA provides its members with information that can be used by policy makers when making important decisions about this balance, helping to further the development and advancement of solid stormwater management programs.

Learn Together

The field of stormwater management is still new, and there is still so much to be learned. Individually, each organization learns from its own experiences, and this can take years. But, as a CASQA member, you benefit from the joint experiences of other professionals and stormwater programs together. These experiences will help provide you with the additional knowledge necessary to face challenges in the industry, and better prepare you for how to overcome potential obstacles.

Market Your Organization

Membership in CASQA can significantly enhance your organization's marketing efforts. As a member, you are able to link your organization's Web site to the CASQA site, providing visitors to the CASQA site with easy access to information about your organization. You'll have greater access to additional stormwater related resources that can provide you with further information about the profession, helping you to target your audience with sound, reliable messages. And, your membership allows you to market your organization as a leader in the stormwater management practice field.
